Standard Lined
Burial Vault

Why use a burial vault? Not only is a burial vault required in some cemeteries, but it's the vault that distributes the weight of the earth above. This prevents dangerous shifts that could disturb any headstone or marker, and protects the casket from being crushed from the earth used to fill the grave. It also protects the casket from the weight of cemetery equipment which could sit over the grave at one time or another.

Features:

- 6500 PSI high strength reinforced concrete encased in a seamless inner and outer layer of polymer protection. The classic beauty of carved stone makes the Aegean burial vault one of Bradbury's most popular choices. Families can choose from simulated gray granite, rose granite, white marble or black marble finishes. Intricate moldings and decorative corner columns complete the timeless look of this vault. This simulated stone exterior is also another layer of protection. When combined with Trigard's patented arched, reinforced cover, the exterior increases the structural integrity of the vault. The Aegean represents a leap forward in protection. Bradbury Way Service available.
